

The Grade Five Monthly Newsletter

NOVEMBER

Dear Parents,

In the month of November, students will be busy learning new concepts in the different subject areas and participating in activities. They will continue to learn about the human body (skeletal and nervous system) and become more informed on maintaining a healthy lifestyle. They just started learning about latitude and longitude in social studies and will begin to learn about the different provinces and territories in Canada. It is important for your child to practice their multiplication facts, especially since we are learning to multiply 2 digit by 2 digit combinations. In language arts, each group has started a novel as part of our book club. They will independently read assigned chapters and then come together in their groups to discuss the novel.

Remember that on Thursday (November 11) and Monday (November 14), we are not in school. The Christmas musical is next month, so the students are busy learning their songs. The class really enjoyed the fieldtrip to the YVR and if you get a chance there are pictures and paragraphs along the grade five bulletin board that show what we did on this exciting fieldtrip.

It is always important to check the planner to ensure students are fully completing their assignments by the due date and also to communicate any concerns.

Thank you for your support :)

Mrs Milan
